"Pierre Omidyar, the founder of eBay, believed in Adam Smith's principles," said Devin Wenig, CEO of eBay Marketplaces. "He believed that an economic democracy would not only be a great business, but it had the potential to do immense amounts of good around the world."