

We Hold These Truths

The Global Quest for Liberty

And the Promise of America's Declaration of Independence

With Judge Douglas H. Ginsburg

Judge Douglas H. Ginsburg

United States Court of Appeals, D.C. Circuit

Judge Ginsburg was appointed to the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit in 1986; he served as Chief Judge from 2001 to 2008. After receiving his B.S. from Cornell University in 1970 and his J.D. from the University of Chicago Law School in 1973, he clerked for Justice Thurgood Marshall on the United States Supreme Court.

Thereafter, Judge Ginsburg was a full professor at the Harvard Law School, Administrator of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs (OMB), and Assistant Attorney General of the United States in charge of the Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice. Concurrent with his service on the federal bench, Judge Ginsburg has taught law at the University of Chicago, New York University, Columbia University, and the University of London. Judge Ginsburg is currently a Professor of Law at the Antonin Scalia Law School, George Mason University.

He has served on the Advisory Boards of the Harvard Journal of Law and Public Policy; the Supreme Court Economic Review; the University of Chicago Law Review; the New York University Journal of Law and Liberty; and, at University College London, both the Center for Law, Economics and Society and the Jevons Institute for Competition Law and Economics.

In 2020, Judge Ginsburg hosted the PBS series, A More or Less Perfect Union. The three-part program explores the American Constitution -- the foundational document that governs those who govern us. The program aired nationwide and was selected for PBS At Home Learning during the pandemic. Subsequently, he created CivicsFundamentals.org, an educational course based on the 100 questions for the U.S. civics test for naturalization.

In 2022 Judge Ginsburg was awarded the Freedom of the City of London for advancing the rule of law.

Currently, Judge Ginsburg is host of a new documentary for public television, We Hold These Truths: The Global Quest for Liberty, which will air nationwide this summer.
